

July 30, 2016

Product Release Notes

NEW

Brainshark

Group Manager Permissions

Group managers now have the ability to enroll students, send invitations and manage reminders without relying on learning admins., saving time and simplifying the enrollment process. As a result, course invitations and reminders can be more closely managed and timely, increasing participation.

Dynamic Curriculum

Dynamic curriculums streamline the process for learning authors. When a dynamic curriculum is updated with a new course, a student who previously had a status of “complete” will automatically update to “incomplete” and the curriculum will reappear in the students “Current Enrollments” tab.

Include Calendar Events in Curriculum Enrollment Emails

This feature is an update to a recent enhancement to include calendar events in course enrollment emails. Now, if learning authors create a curriculum that includes more than one scheduled course, the calendar events for each course will be included in curriculum-level enrollment emails so students can easily add these to their personal calendar.

Update - New Privacy Buttons in Authoring

In the last release, new privacy buttons were added to the authoring process as another layer of control and security for content. This update activates an author’s privacy settings as soon as the buttons are checked, rather than having to wait for their content to convert.

Sales Accelerator

Sales Accelerator Analytics

With Sales Accelerator Analytics dashboards and reports in Salesforce.com, it is easier than ever for existing users and new Sales Accelerator customers to gather key content, opportunity and training insights. All dashboards and reports are more powerful and configurable than ever before, with useful features like dashboard-wide filters and trend charts to track changes in key metrics over time. Depending on their Salesforce subscription limits, Sales Accelerator customers can choose the SA Analytics Executive Edition or Performance Edition package. Both packages are compatible with Sales Accelerator V4.12 and later, and they include three Salesforce dashboards and associated reports aimed at top executives. In addition, the Performance Edition delivers six additional dashboards and associated reports designed for sales reps and sales managers.

FIXED

The following issues were addressed in this release:

When using the Preview functionality within the Search Settings Configurator in Sales Accelerator, the Search Terms are not being considered.

Unable to download large mp4 files from the Brainshark player.

When manually setting a student to complete in the administration side under the "current enrollments" section the email certificate is not sent to the group manager.