NEW

Brainshark Mobile App

Practice Field Workflow

Mobile app users can now take advantage of Coaching's Practice Field Workflow. Users can practice on their own and record, save, and manage individual takes on each Coaching activity. When a user has decided on their best and final take, they can submit it for formal review. The ability to share a take with peers prior to submitting it for formal review will be available in a subsequent release.

Please note: The mobile app will allow to users upload an existing video or record and save a new video on any Coaching activity that has Machine Analysis enabled. This is an enhancement and a benefit of Practice Field Workflow. Until Machine Analysis is fully supported in the mobile app, the app will still require users to submit their best take from the desktop or mobile browser on activities where Machine Analysis is enabled.
